Excerpt: . of the time, labor, and skill required, and the responsibility and risk they incur, that the public should award them more than a mere consulting fee. Sect. 3. There is no profession by the members of which eleemosynary services are more freely dispensed than they are by physicians; but justice demands that some limits should be placed to the claims upon such offices at their hands. Poverty, professional brotherhood, the benevolent and scantily remunerated occupation of the individual patient, and certain of the public duties referred to in Sect. 1 of this article, should always be recognized as presenting A valid claims for gratuitous services. But neither institutions endowed by the public or by rich individuals, societies for mutual benefit, for the insurance of lives, or for analogous purposes, nor any profession or occupation, can be admitted to possess such privilege. Nor can...
