Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Elementary Course of Instruction for Mine Foremen and Pit Bosses The law of several states requiring mine foremen and pit bosses to be examined in order to continue in their work has created a demand for instruction in the practical lines upon which the various examining boards make their tests. It has also stimulated a desire in many men to make the best of the opportunities that are afforded for personal advancement. The mechanical drudgery that surrounds every miner who works only with his hands cannot be eliminated until he educates his brain to direct the labor and thus draw success from its intellectual fountains. Every miner should be ambitious to advance to the position of foreman; every foreman should strive to become a superintendent; every superintendent should aim for a managership; and every manager should hope to become a mine owner. Such advancement has been realized thousands of times by those who have worked and studied for the promotion, and it is hoped that these lessons may be of some service in preparing...
